The Shadows of Christmas Eve

—BY—

It is Christmas Eve. Despite the snowflakes that fall softly like frozen tears, as if nature were quietly weeping in memory of the birth that led to the worst of all deaths, there is a cheery glow in the street peculiar to holidays, when every shopkeeper hangs on all his gas, puts his most tempting wares in the windows, with a label of "Merry Christmas" appended to all of them, and resolutely refuses to put up his shutters until St. Nicholas has made his last purchase, and started off on his journey of distribution. There is a glow in the air, a glow on the faces of well-muffled boys and substantial looking men, that seems to have burst into an epidemic, and made the benediction of eighteen hundred years ago, "Peace on earth and good will towards men," a reality to one and all. But is the glow universal? Is there peace on earth and good will towards all men? Come with me. Let us wander through the streets; let us look through curtained windows, and see whether Christmas is merry: whether sorrow and care are forgotten in the great joy of holiday.

SCENE FIRST.

Why, what is this? A pale, illy-clad little girl, who gazes with hungry eyes at the portly turkeys in restaurant windows, and darts forward with "A penny, if you please; I'm cold and hungry, and mother's sick in bed." The old, old story. Shall we follow the child and see if her story be true? Yes. Christmas grows less and less joyous as we pass from the crowded thoroughfares to the filthy streets, where poverty is huddled together as if it were as great a sin as to merit no better house than the rats.

"For Christ's sake, a dollar!" begs a young woman with a face that tells a tale of misery and shame. "It is cold, and I shall die if I wander about to-night."

She begs of the honest on Christmas Eve, poor thing; she who is an outcast because she is woman. On we speed through an alley-way, into the cellar of a shambling frame house, swarming with humanity that looks like vermin. Oh! such a squalid room! There is no Christmas here.

"I've got some money, mother," says the child, addressing a woman in bed, who raises her head upon one arm, and looks up, half stupidly, half wonderingly.

"Get out with ye and be d—d," growls an animated rag-bag in the corner, that raises itself and discloses the form and features of a man.

"Never mind him, he's drunk," whispers the woman in a plaintive voice.

"Drunk am I? I'll show yez whether I'm drunk or not," and rising, the man staggers towards the bed with an uplifted arm that descends upon the woman, who receives the blow without a murmur, while the child cowers in a corner. "When yez see me again yo'll know it," snarls the brute as he snatches the money from the child's hand. Gaining the door, he goes out into the night, leaving mother and child to their miserable fate. Angel of peace and good will, where are you.

SCENE SECOND.

A widow woman, who has had bad luck lately with her washing, and who wonders where the next meal is to come from, puts her baby to bed, covers her little fire with ashes lest it should burn out, and, taking her only broom—a very skeleton of a broom—wanders forth to see if she can earn a Christmas dinner. Perhaps some one will let her sweep the snow from their door steps, she thinks, and walks and walks until she enters a street of well-to-do aspect. A load of coal is lying on the sidewalk. Perhaps she may be engaged to do the porterage; and, inspired by the thought, the woman rings the bell.

"What do you want? We've got nothing for beggars," says the man servant who answers the door.

"I am not a beggar. I want to work, and would like to carry in your coal if you will let me."

"That's no sort of work for a woman; you're not strong enough," and the door closes as doors only do close on the unfortunate.

With a sigh the woman moves on in search of a scene heaped up with snow.—Boys have preceded her in this work, and look with no amiable eye on one who aspires to share their prerogative.

"Hi! hi! I say, don't yer mother know yer out? Oh, what a broom! What gutter did it sweep last? You're a pretty one to come and take the bread out of our mouths."

Should she go home without making further effort? No; the baby would wake in the morning—Christmas morning—and would cry for something to eat. So she plods on, ringing bell after bell, until her prayer is granted. She goes home with fifty cents in her pocket and a pain in her chest, for poor people do catch cold sometimes, when their shoes let in the snow and their clothes let in the cold.

Again at home, the poor widow tries to warm her hands by the melancholy fire, looks at her earnings with tearful eyes, and wonders why rich folks do not follow the teachings of the Saviour whose birth they celebrate, and feed the poor. "God help me, and my baby," murmurs the widow, as she goes to sleep on Christmas Eve.

SCENE THIRD.

"We should like a story from you for the New Year number of The Spatter!—Let it be in your best style—brilliant, taking, and in high life. If you can found it on some "spicy" incident in fashionable society, so much the better. Manuscript must be on hand day after to-morrow. We will pay you $3 per column, as usual."

Poor Topps! He is not handsome, but there is something sympathetic in his face, and if Topps had a little more cerebrum, together with an addition built on to his cerebellum, he would be a great author, for Topps is appreciative; he knows just how things ought to be done, but like so many of us, his conception is much better than his execution. Topps is a gentleman nevertheless. He sits in a rickety arm-chair, with his feet in that most natural of all positions, on the top of a stove, in a cheerless room, which, because it is at the top of a studio building, is poetically called a studio. As Topps read that publisher's missive by the light of a very dirty, very greasy, and and badly-trimmed kerosene lamp—I never saw a bachelor's kerosene lamp that was not very dirty, very greasy, and very badly trimmed—tears filled his eyes. "And I am to pass my Christmas in solitude," he murmurs, "beating my poor brains for an idea! Time was when I dreamed of happiness as many another—when I dreamed of a loving wife by my side, and merry children about my knee. But she who believed in me died ere I could call her mine, and I am—what? a literary drudge, a scavenger, with all aspirations crushed out of me, and no hope but in a future life." And poor Topps sits there with his face buried in his hands, thinking of the woman who died many years ago, and wondering how he can be "brilliant and taking" at "$3 a column as usual."

SCENE FOURTH.

It is only a seamstress who is hurrying to her two little ones, her arms full of work which is to be her sport on the morrow, her heart full of longings for—money. Yes, money; because money would buy nice clothes and pretty toys, and happiness for Lucy and John at home. She stops before a large toy shop, and enters, for rather will she do without food than deprive her little ones of a Christmas token. Past beautiful wax dolls and fine boxes of tools—none too good, but, alas! too dear for her's—the mother searches for a wee doll and a small top. They are found at last, and with a lighter purse the seamstress hastens home.

Four little arms encircle that mother's neck, and her tired face grows pretty as she thanks God that He has left her something to love and work for.

"Mamma," says little Lucy, "do you believe St. Nicholas will remember us? They say he doesn't care for poor children, that he takes all his pretty presents to the rich. But, mamma, if he is a saint oughtn't he to be very good and kind to children that have no papas to take care of them."

"Yes, darling, and he sure he will not neglect you."

So the children hang up their stockings in great glee; and after the mother has tucked them up in bed and watched them until they are fast asleep, she puts the toys into one stocking, and then sits down to make clothes for that wee doll. The fingers that have stitched all day forget their weariness in this labor of love; but some times there is a pause as the mother thinks of a bloody battle field where fell the father of her children. He was only a private.—We leave her kneeling beside the children's bedside, praying for strength, for patience, from Him who more than eighteen hundred years ago bore the heaviest of all crosses.

SCENE FIFTH.

He is an old, old man that we see now. He peers through the windows, intently watching the game of blind man's buff being played by the little people in the opposite house. Noting the gradual increase of hilarity as the hour for St. Nicholas' arrival approaches, the old man totters from the window and seats himself by the fire. What is Christmas to him? He is no longer a child, but a lonely old man, whose wife and children, and even friends, have preceded him into the dark valley. He is rich, and his walls are lined with paintings, but do they talk to him in the language he most longs to hear? His money buys "help," but does not buy affection? Does it restore the dead to life? The old man sits and maunders to himself, and wishes he might pass his Christmas with the dear ones in their new home. Presently, as his head falls to one side, his past life appears to drift before him in a vision. He is a boy again, and Christmas means one glory of of sleighing, turkey and plum pudding. Anon he is a young man, and in the twilight of Christmas Eve he woos and wins a fair young girl. The scene shifts, and the room is full of joyous boys and girls, shouting "Merry Christmas!" at the top of their shrill voice; but ere the shouts die away he is standing beside the bier of an old woman, once a fair young girl, who has died of a broken heart because God has taken her children from her, one by one. The old man sobs as though he too would break his heart, but as the town clock strikes twelve, and the birth of merry Christmas is announced, a change takes place in the old man. The sobs cease, the hands fall as if paralized, and his face grows pale. There is a knock at the door, but no answer follows. Knock on in vain, there has entered one who never knocks, who comes unbidden, but who never leaves without bearing away a soul.

God has heard the old man's prayer. He will pass his Christmas with the angels.

Merry, happy reader, you whom St. Nicholas never forgets, think of these little sketches not as stories, but as facts. Remember that while you are rejoicing, thousands of your fellow beings are sighing and shivering in the cold. Think if there be not some one unfortunate to whom you may bear warmth and cheer. Bear it, happy reader, and believe that the Christ who looks down upon you says: "As ye do it unto the least of these, so do ye it unto me."

Another heavy shock of earthquake was felt at St. Thomas on the 12th inst., and the excitement there still continues.

Redemption of State Bonds.

(GENERAL TREASURER'S OFFICE, Newport, R. I., Dec. 20th, 1867.)

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this Office until the 10th prox. for the purchase of $100,000, of the bonds of the State of Rhode Island of any issue; the Treasurer reserving the right to reject all offers made unless the lowest bids are satisfactory. GEORGE W. TEW, General Treasurer.

The following papers will please copy and send copy of paper and bill to this office: Commercial Advertiser, N. Y.; Providence Press and Journal; Boston Journal; Hartford Courier. dec23

PRESIDENTIAL.

The movement for making General Grant our next President makes rapid progress in all parts of the country. Even in New York city there is a great furore in his favor, and a number of Democrats, some of whom are in important offices, are out for him, and authorize the statement that they are going to labor for him to the end. In Boston, not only those who have been foremost in the Republican ranks, but some of the gentlemen who subscribed the letter to Mr. Adams, the Democratic candidate for governor, were among the signers for the call for a Grant meeting, and among its chief promoters.

No other man has so won upon the popular regard during the war and at its close, as General Grant, and, were it not that his present office demands his time and few have thought he would relinquish it for the presidency, this popular enthusiasm for him would have been manifested earlier. In no way but in the actual performance of its functions can it be known how any man will fill the presidential office, and with every new candidate a new experiment has to be tried. Gen. Grant's executive ability has been well proved in his command of the army, and his trustworthiness in administering public affairs, in the War Department. What knowledge of his statesmanship has come into the possession of the public has been through merely incidental occurrences in the administration of these offices.

In all things, thus far, his ability and integrity have been well proved and he seems to be incorruptible. Would we could say this, without qualification, of any man. Grant has not given evidence of overlowering ambition for place, but a pure patriotism which, as its proper reward, has elevated him to the highest place in the estimation of the people as well as in the conduct of the affairs of the army both in war and in peace.

Brief News Items.

A robber who was detected in an attempt to rob a bank in Haverhill, Mass., early Monday morning, shot the policeman dead, and escaped.—The New York express train for Boston, via Springfield, collided, Sunday morning, with a freight train, killing a brakeman, injuring several passengers and smashing two cars.—An accident on the Boston and Erie road, Saturday, happily destroyed no lives.—A hurricane in Calcutta destroyed over a thousand lives, more than twenty thousand cottages and 163 brick houses, beside a great number of native boats and several ships.

SEASONABLE HINTS. Every farm should have a small quantity of osier or basket willow growing, for tying up grape-vines, tops of corn-shocks and similar uses, besides making baskets. The Forbyanna, sometimes called "Leather Willow," a white barked variety, introduced West by the late Dr. John A. Kennicott of Cook Co., is the best and most pliable of any. Wet land is best adapted to their culture; half a dozen rods devoted to them, would be sufficient for a farm of a quarter section.

Scions of fruit trees are injured by the severe cold of our coldest winters. It is best to cut them in early winter, pack in saw-dust, leaves or soil a little moist and keep in a cool cellar.

Cuttings of soft wooded trees, as the Willows and Poplars, also of Currants and Gooseberries wanted for spring planting, can be cut any mild weather during winter.—Tie in bundles with willow withes, bury in moist sand in rather warm cellar. If done before February, they will callous preparatory to rooting, and often form roots an inch or two in length, before proper time for planting in early spring.—Advance.

In the Supreme Court at Washington, the case of Smithson against Edwin M. Stanton, for false imprisonment, was to have been tried before Justice Wylie, but has been postponed for a few days. Smithson was a banker of that city, and during the war was arrested by the military authorities on a charge of sending information to the rebels. He was convicted by a military commission, and sentenced to the Albany Penitentiary from which he was afterwards pardoned. Smithson then brought this suit against Mr. Stanton, laying his damage at $50,000

THE NAVY YARDS.—The New York Tribune's special says it is probable that the order reducing the force of workmen in Government service will not be enforced before the first of January.

When the order reducing the force in the ordnance department was received there last Friday a deputation of the workmen was immediately appointed to wait on the Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Welles stated that he regretted very much the necessity of discharging so large a number of men, and said that if he received an official notification from the committee on naval affairs he would be glad to suspend the order.

Messrs. Archer and Stevens, two members of the committee, have written letters recommending the suspension of the order, and other workingmen's committees entertain strong hopes that the order will not be enforced.

A RUNAWAY.—The Fall River Times of Monday says: This noon a span of horses, belonging to Mr. James Tripp of Westport, attached to an empty hay cart ran away down Rodman street and through Second toward the market. At the corner of Pleasant one of the horses tried to turn and was thrown down and dragged the length of the Pocasset block. At market square the team was stopped and but little damage was done to either wagon or horse.

About Home.

CHRISTMAS EVE.—There will be service at Trinity Church on Christmas Eve, including a sermon by Rev. I. P. White, the rector. Service Christmas morning at 10½ o'clock.

The Sunday School of the Marlboro' street church will hold a festival Christmas night. The exercises in the body of the Church will commence at 7 p. m., at the conclusion of which the school and their friends will repair to their room to enjoy the good things provided for them.

At Emmanuel Church, this evening, there will be a children's celebration, with a short religious service and a Christmas tree. This Church has been elaborately decorated with evergreen, and much interest is felt in the celebration. To-morrow there will be morning prayer.

The Unitarians have a Christmas Tree this evening, accompanied with appropriate exercises, as on former occasions.

The Tree at the Home for Friendless Children has been provided with a fine display of presents for each of the little ones. A large number of persons have interested themselves in it, and all will rejoice in the success of the movement.

REGISTERED LETTERS:—It has been a question in the minds of many whether it does not add to the risk of loss to have a letter registered. Our correspondent, in the following communication, seems to take this view:—

MR. EDITOR:—

The fact that the Aquidneck Bank recently lost $36,000 in U. S. bonds, by sending them in a registered letter to New York, suggests the enquiry as to whether it is not a mistake to register letters at all; for if there is a dishonest clerk in the post office, he of course knows that the registered letters are the ones of value, and so they are liable above all others to be taken. Can you inform your readers Mr. Editor, whether the post office makes good any such loss? I never heard that it did. A gentleman of this city registered at our post office about a year ago a letter containing about $800,00 in checks, which was stolen, and even to this day neither the thief or letter has ever been discovered, although our efficient postmaster, Mr. Coggeshall, made the most prompt and energetic endeavors to discover the missing letter. These facts have led me to think it is safer to make valuable remittances by express, rather than by mail; for the express company if shown the money or other valuables, and allowed to enclose it, will give a corresponding receipt, and become responsible, and any other charge is more than compensated for by the additional safety.

SUBSCRIBER.

ST. JOHN'S LODGE.—It will be seen by the announcement in our advertising columns that our Masonic brethren are to have their one hundred and twentieth annual festival on Thursday of this week. It seems hardly credible that this lodge has been in existence almost a century and a quarter, yet such is the fact. But, notwithstanding the advanced age thus reached, St. John's No. 1 is as vigorous and flourishing as at any time in its history and is likely to endure as long as the city itself. The festivals held in past years have been famous for good cheer, and we have no doubt this will fully equal anything that has preceded it. As a supper is to be provided by Mr. Hodges of the Aquidneck, there is no danger of a failure in that respect. Though not one of the "brethren," he knows exactly what is wanted and has the tact to secure it.

PERSONAL.—The Narragansett Times says Capt. H. B Strout delivered a lecture in the Peace Dale Hall on Tuesday evening on his Whaling Experiences in the Arctic regions. The Capt. has seen a great deal of the eventful life of a sailor, in all its phases—prosperity and adversity. The manner of harpooning the whale, off shore and among the floating field ice, was graphically described, and attentively listened to by the audience. The Capt. also gave an interesting account of the shipwreck of a vessel in which he was an officer, and the hardships experienced by the survivors before they reached Hong Kong in the ship's boats.

Capt Strout is a native of Newport, and is one of our trusty and successful sea captains, having commanded vessels from this port, in the West India trade, many voyages. We wish him success in his new vocation.

MASONIC.—At the regular annual communication of St. John's Lodge No 1 held last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, and installed in due and ancient form.

H. J. Hudson—W. M.
John Myers—S. W.
Frank. H. Wilks—J. W.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—George Norman, Esq., one of our old and respected citizens died this morning, after an illness of several months, which at last assumed a more acute character and carried him off sooner than was expected. Mr. Norman was a native of Newport, and here his home has always been, as has that of his family for several generations.

FESTIVAL.—The Methodist Society in Little Compton is making great preparations for a good time on Christmas Eve and Christmas night. A variety of choice fruit and other decorations, will adorn the inside of the church, and many an urchin will be made happy from its fruitful branches.

TURKEYS.—David Sisson, Esq., of Little Compton, has 650 turkeys, which he is fattening for market. During the first cold spell of the season, he had twenty frozen to death while being brought in a boat from Block Island.

As to-morrow is Christmas no paper will be issued from this office.

REGISTER.—Voters whose names are not registered will do well to attend to it at once that they may by no possibility forget in in the last days. The next election will be one of importance, and we judge from present indications, one that will awaken a general interest. As we have no doubt the readers of the News will all vote on the right side we advise them to be sure and attend to this duty before it is too late.

☞ Big Show of Candy, &c., for the stockings, at Wilson's Fruit Bazaar.

NEW SHOREHAM.—The Block Island boat Island Belle, Capt. Wm. M. Rose, which left this city on Saturday found a little too much breeze and was obliged to put into Narragansett Pier, whence after landing a portion of the passengers, she returned to Newport. She left again yesterday in the hope of making better time.

GOOD TIME.—Postmaster Coggeshall informs us that letters are now received and distributed at this office in seventeen days, overland, from California. A great change, surely, from other days.

THE WEATHER.—Our thaw of yesterday morning suddenly caught cold towards night, and soon after was numbered with the things that were.

☞ Christmas Greens and Dry Boquets, &c., in profusion, at Wilson's Fruit Bazaar.

Mr. G. B. Borden, of Tiverton, having just returned from sea and learned of the loss of his barn by fire, in October last, offers a reward of $100 for the detection of the incendiary.

Peerless Cooking Stove.
HEAR what the Boston Journal says of this superior article:
Among the peculiar merits claimed for this stove is the complete ventilation and even temperature of the oven, making it a roasting rather than a baking oven, which is secured by a peculiarly constructed air-chamber, which heats the air as it passes down behind the fire pot and into the oven, causing the oven to bake or roast perfectly and evenly, a great desideratum with a careful house-wife: the perfect control which can be kept over the fire, and its cleanliness. This stove works equally well with coal or wood. These stoves are of different sizes, and are made plain or with an extension top, the latter being made with a large reservoir for hot water on the top and a warming closet underneath. Those of our readers who would like to keep up with the times would do well to call and examine this "Peerless stove." Sole agent in Newport,

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILL.
A certain Cure for Diseased Liver and the many Dangerous Maladies which are caused by a morbid condition of that organ.
TO give the public a clear understanding of the mode in which SCHENCK'S Mandrake Pills produce these wonderful effects which are attested by thousands of reliable witnesses, we present a brief and its functions, which will make the operation of this popular medicine perceptible to every man's understanding.
The liver is supplied with blood vessels, nerves and absorbents. One of its curious uses is to secrete and prepare the bile. It likewise filters the blood and separates that fluid from all impurities. How indispensably necessary to health is the proper performance of this function! If the liver is diseased, it cannot purify the blood, and if that is sent back through the lungs, brain, and other parts in a morbid condition, it must cause jaundice, biliousness, obstruction of the kidneys, gravel, and many other complaints more or less painful and dangerous, but the least of them quite enough to make a man sick and uncomfortable, and unfit for the performance of any of the duties of life. This unhealthy state of the system very often leads to pulmonary consumption.
The circulation of the blood is conducted in this manner: The heart sends the vital current down through the arteries; it passes through the flesh, taking up all impurities in its progress; then the stream of blood flows backward through the veins, and passes to the liver to be purified. It is impossible to cure consumption, scrofula, or scarcely any other kind of disease, while that important organ, the liver, is diseased. It is for this reason that "regular physicians" rarely cure consumption. They usually begin their treatment with the use of some cough medicine, the basis of which is morphia or opium in some shape, which locks up the liver instead of relaxing the secretions, gives a coat to the stomach, and producing a healthy flow of bile. Dr. Schenck's will strengthen the system, purify the blood, and ripen and heal ulcers on the lungs.
Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills,
A volume would be required, to give a brief account of the remarkable cures performed by Dr. Schenck's medicines, viz., Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, all of which are accompanied by full directions for the use of them.
DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond Street, New York, and 35 Hanover Street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free; but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is five (5) dollars. His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1.50 per bottle, or $15 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
We do this article to know it is a work of superer[illegible] merit. Every one word in its favor, as well as it is [illegible] an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Colds, [illegible], Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Diseases of the throat, Chest, and Lungs, as well as that most dreaded of all diseases, Consumption, which high medical authority has pronounced to be incurable disease. Those who have used this remedy know its value; those who have not, have but to make a single trial to be satisfied that of all others it is the remedy.
A REMARKABLE CASE.
From Mr. John P. Darling, Watchmaker, Putnam, Connecticut.
"I have used Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in my family for several years, and always with the most beneficial results. My wife being of delicate habits, has always been troubled with a hard, dry, hacking cough whenever taking cold, and could obtain no relief from the various remedies she employed until she used Wistar's Balsam, the effect of which was astonishing. A year ago a young man in this place was taken with bleeding at the lungs, with a severe cough, and was given over to die by our best physicians, it being evident to all that his disease was Consumption. Upon hearing of his case my wife sent him a bottle of the Balsam, which he took and, to the astonishment of his friends, he was at his accustomed occupation. In other cases we have administered the Balsam to the Consumptive, and always with the best of success. These plain and simple facts, which can be vouched for at any time by calling on me at my store."
None genuine unless signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper. Prepared by SETH W. FOWLE & SON, 13 Tremont St., Boston, and for sale by Druggists generally.
CHRONIC DISEASES, SCROFULA, ULCERS, &c.
It is well known that the benefits derived from drinking of the Congress, Saratoga, and other celebrated Springs is principally owing to the Iodine they contain.
Dr. Anderson's Iodine Water contains Iodine in the same pure state that it is found in these spring waters, but over 500 per cent more in quantity, containing as it does 1 1-4 grains to each fluid ounce, dissolved in pure water, without a solvent, a discovery long sought for in this country and Europe, and is the best remedy in the world for Scrofula, Cancers, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, and all Chronic Diseases. TELEGRAMS.

A MEMBER OF CONGRESS KILLED.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 23.—Hon. C. Hamilton, Republican member of Congress from the 8th Ohio District, was brutally murdered by his son in a fit of insanity Sunday morning, being struck on the head with an ax at Marysville, Ohio. Frenzied by the sight of blood, the son returned to the house and succeeded in inflicting severe wounds upon a younger brother before he could be rescued. The murderer is now a hopeless, raving maniac. Mr. Hamilton had just returned from Washington.

The Earthquake.

The accounts brought by newspapers from Canada and Western New York respecting the earthquake of Wednesday morning agree as to the time of the occurrence and in the description.

A letter from a gentleman of Ogdensburg, N. Y., says,

The vibrations were preceded and succeeded by rumbling sounds, which increased in violence till the latter of the most violent of the vibrations, and then died away as they began. The noise came deep from the bowels of the earth, and resembled that of a thorough bass voice, as if rapidly repeating woo-hoo, woo-hoo, woo-hoo, ad infinitum.

The effect produced upon the people was frightful. Most of them comprehended in an instant the cause of the disturbance. Indeed, so awfully grand and awe-inspiring were the rumbling sounds, and vibrations that it was impossible to attribute them to anything but the real cause, and the violence with which they came impressed all with the conviction that their tenements and dwellings would certainly tumble about their heads.

At the time, the mercury stood about four degrees below zero; yet in many instances people prepared to flee to the streets. Wonderful to say, not a single accident of note occurred, though tables tipped, stoves jumped as if endeavoring to run off, water pitchers were thrown from stands, beds rocked, wooden buildings creaked, and stone and brick once rattled from foundation to garret, chimneys seemed to topple; yet all passed safe through the trying ordeal.

The Syracuse Journal of Wednesday after noon has the following:

"A very considerable shock of an earthquake was experienced in this city this morning at about ten minutes past three o'clock. It was so violent as to awaken many people. Its duration is variously estimated at from one minute to two or three minutes. The sensation produced by it is described as like the rolling of waves from south to north, rocking beds gently and yet decidedly, as a light boat would rock upon rapid but steady running waves.

The Utica Herald has the following with reference to the shock in that city:

"The reports are generally of the same character. They say distinct rocking of houses was perceptible; that wash-bowls and pitchers were heard to strike against each other; that stoves were moved out of their places; that crockery was distributed upon the shelves. Persons who were awake at the time describes it as a kind of; heavy rumbling sound, similar to the continued breaking of an immense body of ice."

Watches for the Million!

ARRANDALE & CO'S GREAT WATCH CLUB.

Everybody needs a good watch, and wishes to get it at the lowest possible price; a horde of swindlers knowing this have contrived various ingenious device to get people's money, and then either fail to send a watch, or send one that is worthless as a time-keeper. ARRANDALE & CO. have now perfected arrangements by which, for the small sum of $10, a good and reliable watch may be certainly obtained. They have formed a GREAT WATCH CLUB on the following plan. Certificates containing the numbers of all the watches named in our wholesale list (which is sent to all applicants) are mixed up, enclosed in envelopes, and sold, for 25 cents each. Every certificate is warranted to be for a watch, and as will be seen on reference to the list, none are of less value than Ten Dollars, whilst some are worth $300. We undertake to send any watch drawn whatever may be its value for $10, and in order that everyone may absolutely depend upon getting a first class time-keeper, we guarantee that every purchaser of One Dollar's worth of certificates shall receive at least one for watch No. 133 on our wholesale list, sent post free, which is a first-class patent lever, a handsome and reliable watch, in sterling silver hunting case, and usually sold for $10. You will certainly get such a watch; and, besides, you may get a Gold Chronometer worth $500. We sell the certificates as follows: One for 25 cents; Three for 50 cents; Six for $1; and Twenty for $3. To those sending $1, we will send a handsome chain gratis. To those sending $3 we will send a Gold Chain warranted not to tarnish in 20 years. Parties getting up larger clubs will receive liberal presents, particulars of which may be learned on application. As it is our intention to do a strictly honorable business, and do insure our customers from liability to loss, we will send our watches, if desired, without money, instructing the Express agent to collect only on delivery. If we are desired to forward watches by mail, the money must be sent to us by Bank Draft or Post Office Order, and it will then be at our risk. We will then register the package at our post office, and if lost, will replace it free of charge.—If any watch sent is not approved, it may be returned and the money will be refunded. The reputation of our firm, which has been established for two years, and is well known in every part of the country, we trust will be deemed a sufficient guarantee that we will faithfully perform all we promise to do.

AFFLICTED AND UNFORTUNATE!

he not robbed and add to your sufferings in being deceived by the lying boasts, misrepresentations, false promises and pretensions of who know little of the nature and character of Special Diseases, and less as to their cure. Some exhibit forged Diplomas of Institutions or Colleges which never existed in any part of the world; others exhibit Diplomas of the Dead, how obtained, unknown; not only assuming and advertising in names of those inserted in the Diplomas, but to further their imposition assume names of other most celebrated Physicians long since dead. Neither be deceived by through false certificates and references, and recommendations of their medicines or the man, who cannot expose or contradict them; or who, besides, to further their imposition, copy from Medical books such that is written of the qualities and effects of different herbs and plants, and ascribe all the same to their Pills, Extracts, Specifics, &c., most of which, if not all, contain Mercury, because of the ancient belief of its "curing everything," but now known to "kill more than it cures," and those not killed, constitutionally injured for life.

IGNORANCE OF QUACK DOCTORS AND NOSTRUM MAKERS,

Through the ignorance of the Quack Doctor, knowing no other remedy, he relies upon Mercury, and gives it to all his patients in Pills, Drops, &c., so the Nostrum Maker, equally ignorant, adds to his so-called Extracts, Specific, Antidote, &c., both relying upon its effects in curing a few in a hundred, it is trumpeted in various ways throughout the land; but, asked anything is said of the balance; some of whom die, others grow worse, and are left to linger and suffer for months or years, until relieved or cured, if possible, by competent physicians.

BUT ALL QUACKS ARE NOT IGNORANT.

Notwithstanding the foregoing facts are known to some Quack Doctors and Nostrum Makers, yet, regardless of the life and health of others, there are those among them who will perjure themselves, contradicting giving secrecy to their patients or that it is contained in their Nostrums, so that the "usual fee" may be obtained for professedly curing, or "the dollar" or "fraction of it" may be obtained for the Nostrum. It is this that many are deceived also, and uselessly spend large amounts for experiments with quackery.

Paris Exposition.

GOLD MEDAL.

An Admitted Fact.

It is admitted by all that ELIAS HOWE, Jr., President of The Howe Machine Co., was awarded a GOLD MEDAL at the Paris Exposition;

Also, it is admitted that the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor was conferred upon ELIAS HOWE, Jr., by the Emperor Napoleon. These were the HIGHEST HONORS ever awarded to a Sewing Machine Manufacturer.

THE ONLY QUESTION IS,

For what did ELIAS HOWE, Jr., receive these honors? He entered the Exposition as a MANUFACTURER of Sewing Machines, not as "Inventor." He did not apply for or receive his Gold Medal as "Inventor."

The AWARD speaks of Mr. HOWE as "Promoter" and "MANUFACTURER" of Sewing Machines. Mr. HOWE (who is supposed to know) says the GOLD MEDAL was awarded to him for his Sewing Machines exhibited, AND FOR NOTHING ELSE.

Now in all fairness we ask, Whose Sewing Machines took the FIRST PRIZE at the Exposition?

Let COMMON SENSE ANSWER, and we are content.

A Library of Universal Information.

THE NEW

American Cyclopædia:

A POPULAR DICTIONARY OF GENERAL KNOWLEDGE.

EDITED BY

GEORGE RIPLEY AND CHARLES A. DANA

AIDED BY A NUMEROUS SELECT CORPS OF WRITERS, IN ALL BRANCHES OF SCIENCE, ART, AND LITERATURE.

In 16 large volumes, 8vo.
750 double-column pages in each volume.

The leading claims to public consideration which the New American Cyclopædia possesses may be thus briefly stated:

"1. It surpasses all other works in the fulness and ability of the articles relating to the United States.

"2. No other work contains so many reliable biographies of the leading men of this and other nations. In this respect it is far superior even to the more bulky Encyclopædia Britannica.

"3. The best minds in this country have been employed in enriching its pages with the latest data, and the most recent discoveries in every branch of manufactures, mechanics, and general science.

"4. It is a library in itself, where every topic is treated, and where information can be gleaned which will enable a student, if he is so disposed, to consult other authorities, thus affording him an invaluable key to knowledge.

"5. It is neatly printed, with readable type, on good paper, and contains a most copious index.

"6. It is the only work which gives any thing approaching correct descriptions of cities and towns of America, or embraces reliable statistics showing the wonderful growth of all sections."

Every one that reads, every one that mingles in society, is constantly meeting with allusions to subjects on which he needs and desires further information.—In conversation, in trade, in professional life, on the farm, in the family, practical questions are continually arising, which no man, well read or not, can always satisfactorily answer. If facilities for reference are at hand, they are consulted, and not only is the curiosity gratified, and the stock of knowledge increased, but perhaps information is gained and ideas are suggested that will directly contribute to the business success of the party concerned.

A Cyclopædia is pre-eminently the work for our country and generation. This is the age of steam. No one has time to grope among a hundred different works for every little fact required, without the certainty of finding it at last. With a Cyclopædia, embracing every conceivable subject, and having its topics alphabetically arranged, not a moment is lost. The matter in question is found at once, digested, condensed, stripped of all that is irrelevant and unnecessary, and verified by a comparison of the best authorities. Moreover, while only men of fortune can collect a library complete in all the departments of knowledge, a Cyclopædia, worth in itself for purposes of reference at least a thousand volumes, is within the reach of all,—the clerk, the merchant, the professional man the farmer, the mechanic. In a country like ours, where the humblest may be called to responsible positions requiring intelligence and general information, the value of such a work cannot be overestimated.

OF THE

Union Pacific Railroad,

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is only eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien on the road, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty-mile section of the road is completed and examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations, and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the company. Much of this land is the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the loans of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the bondholders, and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY:

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all of the bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government Officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at

90 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR,

they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks.—They pay

Six per Cent. in Gold,

or over

Nine Per Cent.

upon the investment.

Subscriptions will be received in Newport by NATIONAL EXCHANGE BANK, and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by
